GENERAL INFORMATION - National Criminal Record Check Consent Form

This Form is used by NSW Health as part of the assessment process to determine whether a person is suitable for employment or other engagement for work.

Unless statutory obligations require otherwise, the information provided on this Form will not be used without your prior consent for any purpose other than in relation to the assessment by NSW Health of your suitability for the position identified in the consent form. You may be required to complete another consent form in the future in relation to employment in other positions.

NATIONAL CRIMINAL RECORD CHECK

- a) National criminal record checks are an integral part of the assessment of your suitability. You should note that the existence of a record does not mean you will be assessed automatically as being unsuitable. Each case will be assessed on its merit, so it is in your interest to provide full and frank details on this form. Information extracted from the Form will be forwarded to the CrimTrac Agency and to the Australian State and Territory police agencies for checking action. By signing this Form you are consenting to these agencies accessing their records to obtain and to disclose criminal history information that relates to you to NSW Health.

Criminal history information may include outstanding charges, and criminal convictions/findings of guilt recorded against you that may be disclosed according to the laws of the relevant jurisdiction and, in the absence of any laws governing the release of that information, according to the relevant jurisdiction's information release policy.

SPENT CONVICTION SCHEMES

The aim of Spent Convictions legislation is to prevent discrimination on the basis of certain previous convictions. Spent conviction legislation limits the use and disclosure of older, less serious convictions and findings of guilt.

Spent convictions of specific offences will be released where the check is required for certain purposes regardless of how old the convictions are. Each Australian police agency will apply the relevant Spent Convictions legislation/information release policy prior to disclosure. If further information or clarification is required please contact the individual police agency directly for further information about their release policies and any legislation that affects them.

COMMONWEALTH

Part VIIC of the Crimes Act 1914 (Cth) deals with aspects of the collection, use and disclosure of old conviction information. The main element of this law is a "Spent Convictions Scheme." The aim of the Scheme is to prevent discrimination on the basis of certain previous convictions, once a waiting period (usually 10 years) has passed and provided the individual has not reoffended during this period. The Scheme also covers situations where an individual has had a conviction "quashed" or has been "pardoned." A "spent conviction" is a conviction of a Commonwealth, Territory, State or foreign offence that satisfies all of the following conditions:

- It is 10 years since the date of the conviction (or 5 years for juvenile offenders); AND
- the individual was not sentenced to imprisonment or was not sentenced to imprisonment for more than 30 months; AND
- the individual has not re-offended during the 10 years (5 years for juvenile offenders) waiting period; AND
- a statutory or prescribed exclusion does not apply. (A full list of exclusions is available from the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner).

NEW SOUTH WALES

In New South Wales the Criminal Records Act 1991 (NSW) governs the effect of a person's conviction for a relatively minor offence if the person completes a period of crime-free behaviour, and makes provision with respect to quashed convictions and pardons.

A "quashed" conviction is a conviction that has been set aside by the Court. A "pardon" means a free and absolute pardon that has been granted to a person because they were wrongly convicted of a Commonwealth, Territory, State or foreign offence.

In relation to NSW convictions, a conviction generally becomes a "spent conviction" if a person has had a ten year crime-free period from the date of the conviction. However, certain convictions may not become spent convictions. These include:

- where a prison sentence of more than 6 months has been imposed (periodic or home detention is not considered a prison sentence);
- convictions imposed against companies and other corporate bodies;
- sexual offences pursuant to the Criminal Records Act 1991; and
- convictions prescribed by the Regulations.

GENERAL INFORMATION - National Criminal Record Check Consent FormQueensland

Under the Criminal Law (Rehabilitation of Offenders) Act 1986 (Qld) a conviction automatically becomes spent upon completion of the prescribed (rehabilitation) period. This period is:

- 10 years for convictions of indictable offences where the offender was an adult at the time of conviction; and
- 5 years for other convictions (summary offences or where the offender was a juvenile).

Where a person is convicted of a subsequent offence (an offence other than a simple or regulatory offence) during the rehabilitation period, the period runs from the date of the subsequent conviction.

Convictions where the offender is sentenced to more than 30 months imprisonment (whether or not that sentence is suspended) are excluded from the regime.

Once the rehabilitation period has expired, it is lawful for a person to deny (including under oath) that the person has been convicted of the offence, and the conviction must be disregarded for occupational licensing purposes (subject to certain exceptions, see below). It is unlawful for any person to disclose the conviction unless:

- the convicted person consents;
- the Minister has granted a permit authorising disclosure (where there is a legitimate and sufficient purpose for disclosing);
- the disclosure is subject to an exemption.

South Australia

Release of information on a National Police Check is governed by the Spent Convictions Act 2009 (SA). It is an offence to release information regarding the convictions of a person if those convictions are deemed to be 'spent' under the Act.

A spent conviction is one that cannot be disclosed or taken into consideration for any purpose. Eligible convictions become spent following a 10-year conviction and proven offence-free period for adults, and a 5-year conviction and proven offence-free period for juveniles. The Act defines a conviction as:

- a formal finding of guilt by a Court;
- a finding by a Court that an offence has been proved.

Certain convictions can never be spent. These include but are not limited to:

- convictions of sex offences;
- convictions where a sentence is imposed of more than 12 months
- imprisonment for an adult, or 24 months imprisonment for a juvenile.

Schedule 1 of the Act sets out a number of exceptions to the rule where spent convictions can be released. Some examples of this include: the care of children; the care of vulnerable people (including the aged and persons with a disability, illness or impairment); activities associated with statutory character tests for licensing.

Interstate offences are released in accordance with that State or Territory's spent conviction / rehabilitation legislation and policy. Intelligence-type information is not released.

Victoria Police

For the purposes of employment, voluntary work or occupational licensing/ registration, police may restrict the release of a person's police record according to the Victoria Police "Information Release Policy." If you have a police record, the "Information Release Policy" may take into account the age of the police record and the purpose for which the information is being released. If 10 years have elapsed since you were last found guilty of an offence, police will, in most instances, advise that you have no disclosable court outcomes. However, a record over 10 years may be released if:

- it includes a term of imprisonment longer than 30 months;
- it includes a serious, violent or sexual offence and the check is for the purpose of working with children, elderly people or disabled people;
- it is in the interests of crime prevention or public safety.

Findings of guilt without conviction and good behaviour bonds may be released. Recent charges or outstanding matters under investigation that have not yet gone to court may also be released.

Western Australia

Under Section 7(1) of the Spent Convictions Act 1988 (WA) only "lesser convictions" can be spent by Western Australia Police, after a time period of 10 years plus any term of imprisonment that may have been imposed. A lesser conviction is one for which imprisonment of 12 months or less, or a fine of less than $15,000 was imposed.

All other convictions, such as "serious convictions" applicable under Section 6 of the Act can only be spent by applying to the District Court. At the time of sentencing, the Court may make a "spent conviction order" under the Sentencing Act 1995 (WA) that the conviction is a spent conviction for the purposes of the Spent Convictions Act 1988 (WA).

GENERAL INFORMATION - National Criminal Record Check Consent FormNorthern Territory

Under the Criminal Records (Spent Convictions) Act 1992 (NT), a conviction becomes spent automatically (in the case of an adult or juvenile offender convicted in a Juvenile Court) and by application to the Police Commissioner (in the case of a juvenile convicted in an adult court) upon completion of the prescribed period. The prescribed period is:

- 10 years for offences committed while an adult; and
- 5 years for offences committed as a juvenile.

The period starts on completion of any sentence of imprisonment. A subsequent traffic conviction is only taken into account for prior traffic offences (except more serious traffic offences which cause injury or death).

Once a conviction becomes spent:

- a person is not required to disclose the existence of the conviction;
- questions relating to convictions and a person's criminal record will be taken only to apply to unspent convictions;
- it is unlawful for another person to disclose the existence of a spent conviction except as authorised by the Act;
- spent convictions are not to be taken account in making decisions about the convicted person's character or fitness.

Australian Capital Territory

Generally, under the Spent Convictions Act 2000 (ACT), a conviction becomes spent automatically at the completion of the prescribed (crime-free) period.

This period is:

- 10 years for convictions recorded as an adult; or
- 5 years for convictions recorded as a juvenile

The period begins to run from the date a sentence of imprisonment is completed, or, where no sentence of imprisonment is imposed, from the date of conviction. A person must not be subject to a control order or convicted of an offence punishable by imprisonment during this period. If a person is convicted of an offence, which was committed in the crime-free period, but the conviction is not incurred until after the crime-free period, the spent conviction may be revived and will not become spent again until the offender has achieved the relevant crime-free period in respect of the later offence.

The effect of conviction becoming spent is that:

- the convicted person is not required to disclose any information concerning the spent conviction;
- any question concerning criminal history is taken only to apply to unspent convictions;
- references in Acts or statutory instruments to convictions or character or fitness does not include spent convictions, and it is an offence to disclose information regarding spent convictions; it is unlawful for a person who has access to a person's criminal record held by a public authority to disclose a spent conviction; it is unlawful for a person to fraudulently or dishonestly obtains information about a spent conviction from records kept by a public authority.

Tasmania

Under the Annulled Convictions Act 2003 (Tas) a conviction is annulled upon completion of the prescribed period of good behaviour. This period is:

- 10 years where the offender was an adult at the time of conviction; or
- 5 years where the offender was a juvenile at the time of conviction.

A person is taken to be of good behaviour for the required period if, during that period, he or she is not convicted of an offence punishable by a term of imprisonment. If the person is so convicted, the qualifying period (for the original offence) starts to run from the date of the subsequent conviction. A subsequent traffic conviction is only taken into account for prior traffic offences (except more serious traffic offences which cause injury or death).

Only "minor" convictions can become annulled. A minor conviction is a conviction other than one for which a sentence of imprisonment of more than 6 months is imposed, a conviction for a sexual offence or a prescribed conviction.

A minor conviction is also annulled if the offence ceases to be an offence. Once an offence is annulled the convicted person is not required to disclose any information concerning the spent conviction. Any question concerning criminal history is taken only to apply to unspent convictions, and references in Acts or statutory instruments to convictions or character or fitness do not include spent convictions. An annulled conviction or the non-disclosure of the annulled conviction is not grounds for refusing the person any appointment, post, status or privilege or revoking any appointment, post, status or privilege.

- a person is not required to disclose the existence of the conviction;
- questions relating to convictions and a person's criminal record will be taken only to apply to unspent convictions;
- it is unlawful for another person to disclose the existence of a spent conviction except as authorised by the Act;
- spent convictions are not to be taken account in

Attachment 5 Specified Infectious Diseases: Risks and Consequences of Exposure

Hepatitis B Virus (HBV)	Blood-borne viral disease. Infection can lead to chronic hepatitis B infection, cirrhosis and liver cancer. Anyone not immune through vaccination or previous infection is at risk of infection via blood or other body fluids entering through broken skin, mucous membrane, injection/needle-stick, or unprotected sex. Specific at risk groups include: health care workers, sex partners of infected people, injecting drug users, haemodialysis patients. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/hepatitis_b.aspx
Diphtheria	Contagious, potentially life-threatening bacterial infection, now rare in Australia because of immunisation. Spread via respiratory droplets and discharges from the nose, mouth or skin. Infectious for up to 4 weeks from onset of symptoms. Anyone not immune through vaccination or previous infection is at risk. Diphtheria toxin (produced by the bacteria) can cause inflammation of the heart muscle, leading to death. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/diphtheria.aspx
Tetanus	Infection from a bacterium usually found in soil, dust and animal faeces, generally occurs through injury. Toxin from the bacterium can attack the nervous system. Although the disease is now fairly uncommon, it can be fatal and is seen mostly in older adults who were never adequately immunised. Not spread from person to person. Neonatal tetanus can occur in babies of inadequately immunised mothers. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/tetanus.aspx
Pertussis (Whooping cough)	Highly infectious bacterial infection, spread by respiratory droplets through coughing or sneezing. Cough that persists for more than 3 weeks and may be accompanied by paroxysms, resulting in a “whoop” sound or vomiting. Can be fatal, especially in babies under 12 months of age. Neither infection nor vaccination provide long-lasting immunity, however vaccinated people have less severe disease. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/pertussis.aspx
Measles	Highly infectious viral disease, spread by respiratory droplets. Infectious before symptoms appear and for several days afterwards. Serious complications such as ear infection, pneumonia, or encephalitis can occur in up to 1/3 of cases. At risk are persons born during or after 1966 who haven’t had 2 doses of MMR vaccine, babies under 12 months of age, before they have had a first dose and children over 18 months of age who have not had a second dose. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/measles_factsheet.aspx
Mumps	Viral disease, spread by respiratory droplets. Now relatively uncommon in Australia because of immunisation. Anyone not immune through vaccination or previous infection is at risk. Persons who have the infection after puberty can have complications, e.g. swelling of testes or ovaries; encephalitis or meningitis may occur rarely. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/mumps.aspx
Rubella	Viral disease, spread by respiratory droplets and direct contact. Infectious before symptoms appear and for several days afterwards. Anyone not immune through vaccination or previous infection is at risk. Infection in pregnancy can cause birth defects or miscarriage. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/rubella-german-measles.aspx
Varicella (chickenpox)	Viral disease, usually mild, but can be severe, especially in immunosuppressed persons. Complications include pneumonia and encephalitis. In pregnancy, can cause fetal malformations. Early in the infection, varicella can be spread through coughing and respiratory droplets; later in the infection, it is spread through contact with fluid in the blisters. Anyone not immune through vaccination or previous infection is at risk. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/chickenpox.aspx
Influenza (flu)	Viral infection, caused by A or B strains. Mainly affects the lungs, but can affect the heart or other body systems, particularly in people with other health problems, leading to pneumonia and/or heart failure. Spread via respiratory droplets when an infected person sneezes or coughs, or through touch, eg handshake. Spreads most easily in confined and crowded spaces. Annual vaccination reduces the risk of infection, however this is less effective in the elderly. Small children are at high risk of infection unless vaccinated. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/influenza_factsheet.aspx
Tuberculosis (TB)	A bacterial infection that can attack any part of the body, but the lungs are the most common site. Spread via respiratory droplets when an infected person sneezes, coughs or speaks. At risk are those who spend time with a person with TB infection of the lung or respiratory tract or anyone who was born in, or has lived or travelled for more than 3 months in, a high TB incidence country. For more information: http://www.health.nsw.gov.au/Infectious/factsheets/Pages/tuberculosis.aspx

1 Personal Information

Personal information held by Active Locums Pty Ltd may include a locum's name, date of birth, current and previous addresses, telephone/mobile numbers, e-mail address, bank account and superannuation details, copies of passport and driver's licence, AHPRA Medical Registration, Medical Defence Indemnity, National Criminal Record/Working with Children Check consent forms, declarations, clearance notifications and personal references and clinical skills appraisals. Locums are always welcome to make changes or update this information at any time. In order to supply locums with work, Active Locums Pty Ltd may request frequent updates of this information so that paperwork complies with legislative requirements.

Active Locums Pty Ltd accepts enquiries from individuals wishing to remain anonymous or who wish to use a pseudonym. However, due to the nature of the agency, it is not always possible for doctors to remain anonymous during the process of credentialing them for work. It is, however, possible to remain anonymous up to the point of making a genuine offer to a hospital to health facility. From that point onwards, if locums choose not to disclose their personal information, Active Locums Pty Ltd may not be able to provide them with the locum services they require, or the level of service on which the agency prides itself.

Active Locums Pty Ltd is committed to maintaining privacy and we encourage doctors to contact us should they have any questions about the management of their personal information. The agency also encourages locums to contact us if they believe that their privacy has been breached in any manner, so that we may manage it efficiently and appropriately.

1.1 Collection of Personal Information

Active Locums Pty Ltd will only collect sensitive information which is relevant to the credentialing process and which locums consent to. Information about locums will only be collected from them, unless they have consented verbally or in writing to the collection of information from someone other than themselves.

How Active Locums Pty Ltd collects personal information:

- Directly from locums, when they provide information by phone, email, fax, SMS or post, or in documents such as an application form for locum work;

From third parties such a Human Resources Department of hospitals or other organisations with locum's consent;

- From publicly available sources of information, such as AHPRA;
- From work locums may have previously done for us.

The purpose of collecting personal information:

- Applying for locum work;
- Undergoing NSW Health credentialing in application of a locum position;
- Obtaining clinical reference checks and feedback appraisals;
- Mailing lists for the agency's communication only (these lists are not divulged to anyone).

Should Active Locums Pty Ltd receive unsolicited personal information, we would determine whether it is necessary for us to record, report, de-identify or discard it.

1.2 Use of Personal Information

Active Locums Pty Ltd uses personal information to:

- Provide doctors with locum work (for recruitment and employment purposes)
- Inform locums of ways our service provided to them could be improved;
- Conduct and or verify appropriate National Criminal Record Checks and verify Office of the Children's Guardian Working with Children Checks and/or equivalent interstate offices;
- Research and obtain feedback from previous employers on work performance;
- Undertake the process of auditing and for accreditation purposes with Global Mark
- Maintain business systems.

Who our agency may, with the locum's permission, disclose their personal information to:

- Hospitals registered with NSW Health;
- Private Hospitals;
- Medical Practices;
- Relevant Health Services;
- The locums' representatives (e.g. authorised representatives or legal adviser);
- Our professional advisers, including insurance brokers and insurers, accountants and lawyers;
- Government and regulatory authorities, tribunals and other organisations, as required or authorised by law;

Active Locums Pty Ltd will not disclose personal information to anyone without permission unless it is required by law. Our agency is an Australian Organisation that deals with locum doctor work within Australia, so it would be highly unlikely that there would be a situation requiring us to disclose your information to overseas recipients unless a locum is an overseas trained doctor who has given Active Locums Pty Ltd written consent to acquire information from overseas.

Once locums register with Active Locums Pty Ltd they will be placed on our daily mailing list. This allows them access to the hospital vacancies we have advertised. Locums may choose to no longer receive our newsletters at any time by replying to our email with a request to unsubscribe.

1.3 Access to Personal Information

Locums have a right to access their personal information, subject to some exceptions allowed by law. If a locum would like to do so, please let us know. Locums will be required to put their request in writing for security purposes. Personal information will only be released to a locum directly, unless they grant authority for their information to be released to a third party.

1.4 Ensuring Accuracy of Personal Information

Active Locums Pty Ltd takes all reasonable precautions to ensure that the personal information we collect, use and disclose is accurate, complete and up-to-date. However, the accuracy of that information depends to a large extent on the information provided. Active Locums Pty Ltd recommends that locums:

- Let us know if there are any errors in their personal information;
- Keep us up-to-date with changes to personal information, such as name, address, contact telephone numbers, banking and superannuation details, ABN and/or company details;
- Report certain criminal conduct and disciplinary matters – a doctor who is charged with having committed, or is convicted of, a serious sex or violence offence must, within 7 days of the charge being laid or conviction, report that fact in writing to the chief executive of the relevant organisation/Active Locums Pty Ltd.
